Superintendent's Report

To the School Board:

I am pleased to submit the following report relative to your schools:

The school enrollment to date this year is just the same as the total enrollment of last year, 190. Of this number 53 are in the senior high school, 25 in the junior high school, and 112 in the first six grades. The present membership is 159. The total enrollment for a period of years has been as follows:

1932	1933	1934	1935	1936	1937	1938	1939	1940	1941
228	231	233	231	233	213	203	194	190	190

The difference between enrollment and average membership in Bethlehem is greater than in most towns because many pupils, not residing here during the winter, attend school a few weeks in the fall and in the spring only. The average attendance is nearly as much as the average membership each year. The percentage of attendance and the small number of tardinesses show a good attendance record in your schools.

The medical inspection report for last year showed that 164 pupils were examined and the following defects noted and reported to parents: Underweight 14, defective vision 14, defective hearing 4, defective teeth 29, diseased tonsils 5, asthma 2, cardiac disease 3. An audiometer furnished by the State Board of Education was used to test hearing. Miss Bryant reported corrections as follows: dental 22, vision 7, tonsils 2. She also reported that the tuberculin patch test was given to 25 pupils, with only one positive reaction.

During the winter months last year hot lunches of cocoa or soup were provided as in previous years. These hot cups of cocoa or soup are being continued this year.

This year the medical examination was delayed due to the illness of Dr. Page, the school physician. All pupils have now been examined. The results testify to general good health of the school pupils. With possible war rationing of some foods, parents and teachers must make every effort to see that school pupils have proper diet.

Several changes have occurred in the teaching staff during the past year. Last March Miss Agnes I. Corfield was elected as music supervisor in the Littleton and Bethlehem schools. Miss Corfield is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music and holds a master's degree in music from New York University. Miss Corfield came here after five years of experience in the public schools of the state of New York. She is doing excellent work in your schools.

Last summer Miss Erma Telfer, a graduate of Plymouth Teachers College, was selected to teach the commercial subjects and some social science in the high school. Miss Fortula Adams, a graduate of Keene Teachers College, was selected to teach mathematics and social science in the high school. Miss Betty Davison, a graduate of Jackson College, was selected to teach English and French. All of these teachers were without experience, other than that of their supervised practice teaching. All of them have shown enthusiasm in their work and genuine interest in the welfare of their pupils. Their teachings has been good.

During the summer, Miss Ethel Caswell who had taught with marked success in your schools for fifteen years, resigned. Miss Helen Cyr was selected to teach in the fifth and sixth grades. Miss Cyr is a graduate of Plymouth and has had several years of experience. She is doing excellent work in this position. The other teachers are continuing their good work of former years.

Headmaster Betz has spent much time in helping the new teachers in planning their work and in evaluating their results. The morale of the school is excellent. The teachers show a desire to cooperate in making all of the school activities successful. The pupils show an active interest in their work—in classroom and in the extra-curricular program.

The fullest possible cooperation of the schools with the national defense program is necessary. The teachers in Bethlehem have shown a desire to cooperate with the community officials in this respect. Headmaster Betz has attended the Air Raid Wardens Course of study in Littleton and is taking the Red Cross first aid course in Littleton. He has encouraged the purchase of Defense Stamps by pupils and has tried to promote a real spirit of war time thrift. Several of the teachers are taking the first aid courses in Littleton. One of the teachers is organizing a Junior Red Cross group in the high school. The Seniors have expended their class money for the purchase of defense bonds.

Instructions relative to care of pupils during air raids have been given to all teachers. Other suggestions will be given to them as fast as such come from the national defense committee. Teachers' meetings relative to the part of teachers and pupils in the entire defense program have been held. Air raid drills and fire drills are held frequently. Fortunately, the school building offers one of the best air raid shelters in the town. The available spaces afford room for all of the pupils and many of the near-by residents in case of need. Its doors should be open to the public if emergency demands.

During the war period the teachers have the challenge as never before to show the privileges of living under a democratic form of government. They must be living examples of patriotism, of thrift, of sound judgment, of poise, and of earnest effort. They must be alert to danger, yet they must maintain the morale of good cheer and happy school days among their pupils. The task is not easy. Parents and citizens have a greater responsibility than ever before to cooperate in the attainment of the right goals. Our youth must have home happiness and school happiness to appreciate that our way of living is better than that elsewhere in the world. The horrors of the war are bound to be revealed to them. We cannot wish to avoid that. We must show that such is not our ideal of living, not in accord with our principles of democracy. They are the citizens of tomorrow. They will have much of the cost to pay and much of the rebuilding to do. They must assume the responsibility with clear vision and courageous thinking. Your suggestions for all of this program or for any details pertaining to it are earnestly solicited.

Last summer several of the classrooms were painted, the desks in several of the rooms were refinished, and the usual minor repairs were made. More work will need to be done each year in the future in order to keep the building in proper repair. Next summer much interior painting should be done.

The table headed Bethlehem School Finances shows school costs over a period of fifteen years and estimates for the present year. Last year I pointed out that the per pupil costs vary somewhat from year to year with the total expenditures and the average membership of pupils. This year the expenditures will be less than for several years and the average membership about the same as for the past four years. The pupil costs will consequently be less than for several years. The school cost on the basis of equalized valuation is one of the lowest in the state.

The appropriation by the school district last March was $28,500.00. The net deficit last June 30 was $809.84. Unless unforeseen expenditure is required for some phase of defense work the present school year will close without a deficit. The school building bonds are being retired at the rate of $5,000.00 a year. The issue is now reduced to $50,000.00. The building is now one half paid for and is in excellent physical condition.

The proposed budget for next year is $29,024.00. That is $650.00 more than the budget for the present year. Slight increases in the items for salaries, instructional materials and fuel have been made. For several years the average receipts from the forestry reserve fund and from dog licenses have been about $500.00. With the expectation of receiving that amount next year an appropriation of $28,500.00 should be enough to balance the budget. I recommend that you request that amount from the school district. It is the same amount that was appropriated last year.

You have been very helpful in the solution of school problems. Your interest in the welfare of the pupils of Bethlehem must be a matter of definite appreciation by all parents and citizens.

Respectfully submitted,

Dana S. Jordan

Headmaster's Report

The following is my annual report and summary of work:

The total enrollment for the year is fifty-three. At present there are four members in the senior class who expect to be graduated in June, this being the smallest number for some years. In the remaining classes there are nine Juniors, ten Sophomores, and nineteen Freshmen. Because of the number of families that have moved away and because of others who have left school, the high school enrollment since last September has been reduced by eleven boys and girls.

The percentage of attendance on the whole has been very good, although in a few isolated cases absence from school has not always been necessary. At the beginning of each school year, there are always a number of students who, because of summer work, do not return to school for one or more weeks. This places a severe handicap on them because the work lost can never be properly made up. Very often I find that, although these pupils may be very good students it will be several weeks after they return before they become properly adjusted to their school work. The number of tardinesses is unusually low.

While our program of studies is varied enough to fit the needs of all the boys and girls attending a modern high school I do believe, however, that there is a definite need in our school for shop instruction and home economics.

Of the ten seniors who were graduated last June only one has entered an institution of higher learning. Reports received from Alumni who are attending various colleges and training schools indicate that they are doing good to excellent work. Because of the growing shortage of labor throughout the country, the tendency during the last two years has been for high school graduates to seek employment rather than continue with their education. While the remuneration especially in defense plants is very high at present, I believe there is a danger that too many of them are thinking too much in terms of high wages even for work that requires little or no skilled training, a condition which in all probability will be only temporary, and too little of securing a training which is based on a continuance of their education.

In our extra-curricular activities we plan to make them varied enough to permit every student to participate in some activity. Because of our fine auditorium and stage facilities we are able to place considerable emphasis on individual and group expression through our various school programs which are held during the school year. I feel that such training is as important as classroom instruction. All of these activities are properly supervised by some teacher.

The coaches of the boys' and girls' basketball teams are not only doing an excellent job of teaching the fundamentals of the game, but what is more important they are instilling a fine sense of team spirit and good sportsmanship.

With the exception of usual colds, the health of the boys and girls has been excellent. The usual physical examination carried on by the school nurse and doctor revealed very few physical weaknesses. I would like to say, however, that parents occasionally send their children to school with a bad cold when they should remain at home. Such children may not only have their health permanently impaired, but they also spread infection to others. The boys and girls who participate in sports are given a more thorough check than others.

In my report of last year I emphasized the urgent necessity of training pupils to realize their responsibilities and duties in a democracy. In view of the critical times which lie ahead even more emphasis should be placed on the duties and obligations they owe their country. Such training must be based on sound patriotism. If we believe democracy is a way of life, it is the duty of every teacher to inculcate the ideals of democracy which are the priceless heritage of free men and women.

I am very happy to say that we have concrete evidence to show that the boys and girls of our school do realize their responsibilities and are ready to make sacrifices. Of their own free will members of the Senior Class voted to use a large part of class funds to purchase Defense Bonds. As a result of this the usual class trip will be greatly curtailed if not eliminated altogether.

Once a week Defense Stamps are sold at the school. Since the first week of the war the sale of stamps has averaged about eighteen dollars a week.

The girls of the Sakatyn Club are doing their part by knitting sweaters for the Red Cross.

Regular teachers meetings are being held at least once a month. At each meeting which is in charge of one teacher a subject is discussed which is generally of benefit to all. I am pleased to say that the teachers are showing a fine spirit of cooperation and that they are doing a fine job of teaching. I would like to say, also, that Mr. Winterbottom is a welcomed addition. Not only does he keep the building in excellent condition, but his friendly understanding of boys and girls is outstanding.

Again I wish to thank you for the fine job of supervising you have done and the interest you have shown in school.

I wish to express my appreciation to the School Board and the citizens of Bethlehem for their help and cooperation throughout the school year.

Respectfully submitted,

Edwin Betz, Headmaster
